

A vintage book cover illustration. In the foreground, a woman with voluminous, wavy blonde hair and blue eyes looks slightly to the side with a gentle smile. She is wearing a multi-strand pearl necklace and a pink garment. In the background, a man in a black tuxedo and white bow tie is partially visible, looking towards the viewer. The background is a dark, textured green.

CHARM FOR EVERY WOMAN....

does not deal only with mere physical good looks. Charm cannot just come out of a box, a bottle, a dress shop . . . or a book! But this book is an invaluable, practical guide which will show YOU the right way to develop genuine, up-to-date personal charm. The seeds of charm are in every one of us—here you will find how to cultivate them to the full.
