

W-662760

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL THEATRE
AND ACADEMY SERIES OF DISTINGUISHED PLAYS

A dark, high-contrast portrait of Victor Hugo is positioned on the left side of the cover. He is shown from the chest up, with a full, dark beard and mustache, and his hair is slightly disheveled. He is looking slightly to the right of the viewer.

THREE PLAYS
BY VICTOR
HUGO

HERNANI ✦ THE KING AMUSES HIMSELF ✦

RUY BLAS ✦ EDITED
AND WITH AN INTRODUCTION
BY HELEN A. GAUBERT

WASHINGTON SQUARE PRESS

THREE PLAYS
BY VICTOR HUGO

Edited and with an Introduction
by Helen A. Gaubert

HERNANI

THE KING AMUSES HIMSELF

RUY BLAS

WASHINGTON SQUARE PRESS, INC. • NEW YORK

THREE MASTERPIECES OF THE ROMANTIC MOVEMENT

Victor Hugo, nineteenth-century French poet and author of LES MISÉRABLES, supreme among historical novels, wrote plays rich in lyricism and emotional power.

HERNANI

—a bittersweet story of three men's love for one woman. A play which shocked France on its opening night.

THE KING AMUSES HIMSELF

—a violent drama of amorous intrigue, treachery, and revenge at the court of François I.

RUY BLAS

—farce, poetry, and fantasy compounded in the tale of a poor man's love for his Queen. Readers "cannot help being carried away instinctively by the overpowering passions of love and vengeance of the heroic and the villainous characters."

—Helen A. Gaubert, Editor