"SEARCHING, COMPASSIONATE GENIUS
... EXTRAORDINARY PERFECTION."

—The Times of London

Here, within the covers of a single volume, are the greatest novella—and the most unforgettable stories—of a master writer who saw all of life—and rejected none of it

"I defy any intelligent reader to resist the fascination of his high spirits, his delicious humor, his artistic alertness, his critical penetration, his steady good sense."

“He found himself in complete darkness....The smell of poplars, lilacs and roses flooded the air....”

“For a moment all was still. Then the sound of hasty footsteps;...a dress rustled, a woman’s breathless voice whispered, ‘At last!’—and two soft, scented, unmistakably womanly arms met around his neck....”

A LONELY, LOVE-STARVED SOLDIER KEEPS A SECRET RENDEZVOUS—FOR ANOTHER MAN!

“Extraordinary perfection...one of the most highly skilled creators of short stories that the world has ever known.”

—The Times of London

“Today most young writers of ambition model themselves on Chekhov.”

—W. Somerset Maugham
