

PAN MAJOR

THE CHAPMAN REPORT

IRVING WALLACE

An adult and challenging novel that reveals with candour the impact of a sex survey on the private lives of six women in an exclusive Los Angeles suburb

DEVASTATING CRITICISM OF KINSEY-TYPE METHODS AND MOTIVES... OFFERS MUCH FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

DAILY TELEGRAPH

Now a startling film for WARNER-PATHE release

5/-

THE CHAPMAN REPORT

IRVING WALLACE

UNABRIDGED

PAN BOOKS LTD : LONDON

In the film version of The Chapman Report Ethan Phillips plays a member of the Chapman team and (left to right) Claire Bloom, Glynnis Johns, Jane Fonda and Shelley Longform, four of the team's 'subjects'. Produced by Richard Zaslav, directed by George Cukor, the film also stars Ty Hardin and Ray Danton. Released by Warner-Pathe.

Dr. Chapman and a team of sociologists are engaged in a nationwide study of female sexual behaviour. THE CHAPMAN REPORT is the story of their visit to a smart Los Angeles suburb and of the women they interview.

To some, the revealing of the most intimate details of their private lives provides nothing more than a fleeting excitement or a momentary feeling of shame . . . for others the interview has grave and unpredictable consequences.

An outspoken novel about a sensational theme . . .

'But it is not written for sensation alone; it contains almost throughout a quality of truthfulness to its purpose: to show that, by itself, sex cannot substitute for love'

WASHINGTON POST

8/- AUSTRALIA