

Winner of the 1982
NOBEL PRIZE FOR LITERATURE

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SOLITUDE

GABRIEL GARCÍA MÁRQUEZ

PICADOR fiction

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SOLITUDE
by GABRIEL GARCIA MARQUEZ

Only a few novels change people's lives. This is one of them. As W. L. Webb wrote in The Guardian it 'continues to inspire its readers throughout the world a devotion-like conversion to some benign new religion'

A band of adventurers establish a town in the heart of the South American jungle. The occasion marks the beginning of the world, of a great family, of a century of extraordinary events, and of a quite extraordinary novel.

'Sweeping, classic brilliance, often more poetry than prose ... one eye and musical ear'

THE TIMES

'An immensely rich piece of writing, dense as the jungle foliage and packed with leaping allusions, acronyms and humour - full of incidents to enjoy and philosophies to wonder at'

SUNDAY TIMES

'A classic on the grandest scale ... Garcia Marquez is a wellbinder'

SPECTATOR

'An experience of incomparable richness'

FINANCIAL TIMES

'You emerge from this marvellous novel as if from a dream, the mind on fire ... with a single bound Garcia Marquez leaps on to the stage with Günter Grass and Vladimir Nabokov, his appetite as charming as his imagination, his farthest greater than either.'

Dixeling

NEW YORK TIMES

ISBN 0-330-25559-2

9 780330 255592

U.K. £3.50
Not for sale in Canada