James Newbery, F.R.S.S., was born at Knutsford, Cheshire, on 24 February 1904.

After attending an infants' school he was educated at the Egerton School for Boys, Knutsford, and then went to St. John Deane's Grammar School, Northwich.

He has travelled extensively in all parts of the world, and studied every aspect of the knitter's craft. He is to-day Chief Designer for Patons and Baldwins Limited and is considered one of the foremost authorities on the history of knitting, on which subject he has made many sound and television broadcasts.
