

1738
SIGNET
BOOKS

carter brown

A woman with blonde hair, wearing a blue strapless dress and black gloves, holding a knife. The background is dark and textured.

The Dame

The luscious blonde actress was Hollywood's hottest discovery until a killer cast her in the role of a cold, cold corpse

A sizzling AL WHEELER thriller by the international sensation whose books have sold over 23,500,000 copies

A SIGNET BOOK

John Keats

The Dame

by Carter Brown

*"She look'd at me as she did love,
And made sweet moan."*

—JOHN KEATS

"La Belle Dame Sans Merci"

A SIGNET BOOK

Published by

THE NEW AMERICAN LIBRARY OF WORLD LITERATURE, INC. in association with Horwitz Publications, Inc.

Stand-in for a Corpse

The flaxen-haired blonde was very beautiful and very naked—except for the knife she wore in her back.

She made a honey of a corpse even though she was the wrong girl for the part.

It was too late when the killer discovered his mistake ... when he realized he'd have to shoot the scene again.

AL WHEELER, the unorthodox cop, races in to ring down the curtain on a lethal killer in this red-hot tale of homicide and low life high in the Hollywood hills.

carter brown

is the international sensation whose books have sold over 23,500,000 copies throughout the world. He is the author of the torrid Al Wheeler, Mavis Seidlitz, and Danny Boyd thrillers—bestselling detective mysteries which are available in the United States only in Signet editions.

PUBLISHED BY THE NEW AMERICAN LIBRARY

Center Printed in U.S.A.