The English Language Book Society, an association of leading British publishers, offers you essential reading at greatly reduced prices.

This book is written primarily for those who use the written English word as a tool of their trade, either in administration or business. It is wholly concerned with the choice and arrangement of words in such a way as to get an idea as exactly as possible out of one mind into another. It is not a grammar of the English language, but one chapter is devoted to some points of grammar and one chapter to punctuation.
