THE WORK OF THE DEVIL

by Ennis Willie

A MERIT BOOK Original

A black and white photograph of a woman in a light-colored, possibly white, dress embracing a man from behind. The woman's face is partially visible as she looks towards the camera with a slight smile. The man's face is mostly obscured by the woman's embrace. The background is dark and textured.

THE WORK OF THE DEVIL

"Rick . . ." she whispered as he settled within the softness of her arms.

"Uh huh."

"Do you remember what I told you that first night about Ralph. About his way of making love."

Her voice was low and modified.

"Well, somewhere along the line I guess I changed too. You understand what I'm trying to say, Rick?"

"You mean—"

She placed a finger to his lips, silencing him. Her lips were cushioned against his chest. Don't say anything, Rick. Please. Tonight there are no taboos . . ."
